THE CONNECTION'S SIXTH ANNUAL

Connecting with Hope Gala

The Connection

Patty Duke is a true show business legend. An award-winning child star, she rose to fame with her portrayal of Helen Keller in the Broadway play The Miracle Worker. The classic film version made her the youngest Academy Award winner at that time. Her continued success on the small and large screen has spanned six decades.

After struggling for years with drug and alcohol issues, Patty Duke was diagnosed with bipolar disorder in 1982. Ms. Duke was the first celebrity to go public with her mental health struggles and treatment, and has not only written two books on her experiences, but has become a vocal advocate for mental health causes. This is a rare opportunity you don't want to miss!
